

CRITICAL THINKING through a Secondary Humanities Lens

Your ATA Professional Development Committee is offering a series of two interactive workshops to support professional practice in the understanding and application of Critical Thinking through a humanities lens. This series will be geared towards those teaching in a Humanities setting. By the end of these sessions, participants will have had the opportunity to form critical questions in the classroom intended to move student thinking to a deeper understanding of concepts. Our presenter, Wally Diefenthaler, is an experienced educator and facilitator. He led the development and writing of the new Social Studies high school curriculum in Alberta. Diefenthaler has received numerous awards including the Governor General's Award for excellence in Teaching Canadian History, the Alberta Premier's Award of Excellence, the ATA Social Studies Council Award of Excellence and is a founding member of Canadian Council for Geographic Education. Wally has extensive speaking experience on Social Studies related topics to a wide range of audiences and has organized and led hundreds of consultations on Social Studies and critical thinking strategies.

We ask that participants commit to both sessions.
